Community Peace Radio Show #34

Date: 27 June 2009

Topic: Palestine

Participants: Makani Nakasone (local high school student), Sami Jarbawi (UWC-USA Alum '08, Brown University Student), Jamie Utt (Earlham College Peace and Global Studies/Middle Eastern Peace Studies Alum '08, via phone from Israel)

Co-Hosts: Pat Leahan, Arielle Hawney, Curtis Sollohub

Summary: Makani reads a speech she wrote about the conflict between the Israeli Government and the Palestinian People. We get updated on the status of relations in the Middle East, specifically the West Bank, Gaza, and Israel. We discuss some of the historic background of that part of the world. Jamie calls in from a bus station in Tel Aviv, Israel as he journeys through the region.

Pat's Extra Notes:

Curtis runs the board after being gone for awhile.

Pat talks over the disclaimer yet again.

It's Arielle's last show "live" in the studio for awhile, as she is going off to Earlham College in Richmond, IN where she intends to major in Peace and Global Studies.

Thank you, David, for our CPR intro music:
